Before speech pathology, I was a journalist. I learnt to listen and to understand each person's story. I take the time to get to know you, your family and your circumstances, so the plan fits your life.

Speech pathology areas I work in

- Speech — Clear speech sounds
- Language — Understanding and being understood
- Voice — Pitch, volume, vocal strain
- Fluency — Stuttering
- AAC — Guided by a senior clinician
- Swallowing — Guided by Haylee or Brittney

Who I see: Children · Teens · Adults

Yes, I see people for this · A main focus for me · Yes, with our senior clinicians guiding

What lights me up

Rapport and trust
Building trust, including with people who have found it hard to trust or have been through trauma.

Complex profiles
Children, adults and families with complex needs or complex circumstances.

Neuroaffirming
A deep understanding of neurodivergent profiles. Every way of communicating is respected.

Children and adults
Speech pathology for children, teens and adults.

How I work

Rapport first. you feel heard from the start

Your circumstances. I take the time to understand your situation

Detail and research. I do the reading so the plan rests on current evidence

Outside of work

Gardening, bike rides and ocean swims.

What happens when you reach out?

1. Email or call Liz, our NDIS specialist. Ask for Fiona by name.
2. Liz reaches out within 24 hours and checks we are the right fit. If we are not, she points you to someone who is.
3. If we are, Liz gathers your details, books you in and connects you with Fiona.
4. Fiona picks it up from there, and goals are set with you, in your words.

The team behind Fiona. Nobody here works alone. Our speech pathologists, occupational therapists, key workers and allied health assistants work as one multidisciplinary and transdisciplinary team, and plan together around each person. Every speech pathology report and mealtime management plan is read and checked by our senior clinicians before it is released.

Family first, always. Every plan is built around the people who matter most.

NDIS funding may cover speech pathology where it aligns with the participant's goals and approved plan. Not all NDIS plans include speech pathology supports.
